Firsts for Egyptian women

This week, we are celebrating three remarkable Egyptian women who broke down stereotypes and prejudices, demonstrating that women's place in society is important and continues to grow.

Hilana Sedarous

1904–1998

Education: London Medical School

Hilana Sedarous was the first Egyptian woman to become a doctor in modern Egypt. She was born in Tanta and was sent to London in 1922 to study mathematics and medicine with five other Egyptian students. They were considered to be the first medical students to study in England. In 1930 she qualified as a doctor and returned to Egypt where she opened a private clinic for women. She was treating patients until she was 70 years old. After retiring, she started writing and translating stories for children.

Yasmeen Yehya Moustafa

Born: 1998

Awards: 1st place in the Intel Science and Engineering competition, NASA named a planet after her recognizing her contribution to science.

Education: Maadi STEM

School for Girls, Middle East Technical University

Yasmeen is a role model for other young Egyptian women. Born in Damietta, she defied stereotypes, moving to Cairo alone to attend the Maadi STEM school encouraged by her mother. Yasmeen's winning invention was sparked by the need for cleaner water in her village. She found that burning rice straw gave clean water and also produced a natural fuel which can be used to generate electricity. She says her school gave her the confidence to innovate and to defy prejudice: 'I can change the world'.

2021 : A great year for Egyptian women athletes!

2021 was an amazing year for Egyptian female athletes. At the Tokyo Olympics Games, Ferial Abdelaziz became the first female Egyptian to win karate gold medal. Ferial studied to become a pharmacist, and had played karate since she was seven. Before she won the Olympic gold medal, she had already won a bronze medal at the world championship in Spain and a silver medal at the 2019 African Games in Morocco.

However, Ferial was not the only Egyptian to win a medal at the Tokyo Olympics, Giana Farouk won a bronze medal at the same event. Giana had also won a gold medal at the Africa Games in Congo in 2015 and three gold medals at the world championships (two in Germany in 2019 and one in Austria in 2016).

Also in 2021, Egyptian tennis player Mayar Sherif became the first Egyptian woman to be ranked in the top of 100 players of the women's tennis Association (WTA), reaching number 74 in September. This was after she reached the (WTA) finals in Romania, where she lost to Andrea Petkovic. Earlier in the year, she beat Chloe Paquet from France in the first round of the 2021 Australian Open. Up until then, no Egyptian woman had won a match in a Grand Slam tournament. These great women athletes and many others faced many obstacles and challenges. However, they were able to overcome them and proudly put Egypt on the word map of sports. The secret formula for their success was hard work, determination and a lot of patience.

Mayar Sherif makes Egyptian tennis history

Egyptian tennis player Mayar Sherif became the first Egyptian woman to win a match at a major tournament when she beat Chloe Paquet from France in the first round of the 2021 Australian Open on Tuesday. Up until then, she hadn't won a match in a Grand Slam tournament, although she had previously played at the French Open in September 2020, where she lost in the first round. In fact, she'd only been playing professional tennis since January 2020. In an interview after the match she said she was proud of what she had achieved. She said she wasn't used to such fast courts and the heat, but every day she had been improving and getting used to the conditions. She also mentioned that since the French Open, Mo Salah, the Liverpool football star had been giving her advice about the mental side of competing and sleeping which had helped her game. It was Mayar's parents, big fans of the game, who had first got Mayar and her three sisters into playing. In 2016, when she was 20, she went to play tennis at an American University. Before that she had been training in Spain. She has received a big reaction from the Egyptian public after her win and this is helping to bring attention to the game. Asked what advice she had for other hopeful female players, she said that anyone could do it with hard work; they just had to believe in themselves and fight through the obstacles.

A report about a handball player

What's her dream?

In 2021 Fatma was 21. Before this time, Fatma had been playing top handball for many years. Before she went to university, Fatma had already played for the Egyptian youth team, the under-eighteens and before she graduated she had played for ... the under-twenties. She became one of the best women handball players in the country. In 2021, Egypt did not have a handball team for players over 21. When we spoke to Fatma, she said that in the past the country had spent a lot of money on the men's handball team, which helped it to become very successful. She hoped that the sports organisers would spend money on a women's team in the future. She also pointed out that in the past women had been very successful in other sports such as Hedaya Malak and Sara Ahmed who won medals at the 2016 Olympics. She said there was no reason women handball players could not do extremely well too. Let's hope that soon her dream will come true and that there will be an international Egyptian handball team for women over twenty one. We are sure that they will be very successful.

A podcast about the Maadi STEM school in Cairo

Why don't more girls study STEM subjects?

Despite the fact that in most countries there are more girls at university than boys, fewer girls than boys complete STEM university degrees. More girls are in school today than ever before, but they don't always have the same opportunities as boys to choose the education or subjects they want. Too many girls are held back by gender biases, stereotypes and social norms تقاليد and expectations which influence the subjects they study. Research has shown that even though girls often get better grades than boys in STEM subjects in lower school, they choose not to carry on studying them later on because they worry they won't be able to follow classes and they will get poor grades. Well, one answer to this is old girls' schools where it seems that girls are less likely to conform يتوافق to stereotypes and tend to be more confident about their abilities.

One school in Cairo has gone one step farther than this. The Maadi STEM school for girls is a school which specializes in STEM. One of its students is Hoda Mandour, a seventeen-year old girl from the Nile Delta. Like most teenagers, she loves playing sport and listening to music, but what makes her different is the scientific research she is doing at school. Last May, she and two other students took first place in an international science and engineering fair, where 1600 of the best and brightest students in the world had presented their ideas. Together these girls have found a way to purify drinking water using 24% less energy than typically used. Hoda says what they study there is far more interesting than in the old school. She says, "We do real research. Here everyone is a teacher and everyone is a student."

The aim of the school is to raise a generation of critical thinkers and leaders. Certainly the girls at Maadi seem inspired and motivated to become the next leaders. Hoda's ambition after she graduates is to find a cure for Alzheimer's disease, a disease which affects the brains of older people.

A speech about Women's Day

Today, I'm going to talk about Women's Day in Egypt. Egypt's Women's Day is on the sixteenth of March, but in 2019 there was a special sixteen days for Egyptian women from the first to the sixteenth of March. The organizers had chosen these days to remember the events in 1919 when women marched on the street to complain about colonial rule. This event was to remember women's contribution to the Egyptian society.

In my opinion, women are increasingly important in Egyptian society. For example, there are now around ninety women who are members of parliament, more than ever before. In 2021 many women have become judges for the first time. The future is bright for Egyptian women.

Book of the week

What Katy Did by Susan Coolidge .Susan Coolidge, an American author born in 1835, is still a big inspiration to many of today's female authors. What Katy Did is a story following the adventures of Katy and her brothers and sisters. Katy, 12, has an accident on a swing and can't walk. Her aunt had told her not to use the swing, but she hadn't explained why. It was broken.

Before the accident, Katy had been a tomboy. She was a little bit naughty and always getting into trouble. She didn't care about her clothes and often got dirty climbing trees. She often argued with her brothers and sisters. After her accident, she becomes very angry and miserable for a while. She gets very impatient and cross with everyone. However, her cousin, Clara, who is disabled, encourages her to be kinder and more cheerful. Katy learns she must make the best of things or lose the love of her family. She becomes the 'heart' of the family. At the end of the book, she learns to walk again.

Female doctors by country

The bar graph shows the percentage of female doctors in certain given countries around the world. It can be seen that there is a very significant difference across countries, from a majority of women doctors in some countries to a small minority in others. The country with the highest number of women doctors is 1 ....., which has nearly three-quarters of female doctors, while the country with the smallest number is 2 ....., where less than a quarter of doctors are women. Netherlands and 3 ..... have very similar numbers of women doctors; around half the doctors in those countries are women. However, another European country 4..... has around 10% fewer women doctors. In conclusion, the most surprising thing about the figures is the big differences across different countries, which do not seem to be related to region, or size or economic development of the country. In other words, there does not seem to be any obvious pattern to the results. It is especially interesting to note the very low number of women doctors in Japan. That may reflect the stereotype that Japanese women are usually expected to look after the home.
